

Visual Processing Difficulties

The brain receives light and visual information differently.

“My colour tinted glasses have improved my reading and other visual senses”.

“I can do eye contact and recognise peoples faces clearly now!”

Visual processing difficulties are more common with people that have ASD, autism, Asperger’s and dyslexia.

“I can now see the world around me clearly”.

This is not a cure it is a treatment!

CANadda

debbie.canadda@yahoo.co.uk

www.canadda.org.uk 01522 716899

Jordans

Multisensory Optical Practice

www.jordanseyes.com 01292 284555

DISCLAIMER—This leaflet is not a medical diagnosis and is not a substitute for medical advice. Any information that CANadda provide should be used as a guideline only as difficulties vary from person to person. Our information is provided by people that have a personal perspective and approach.